About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.

NCAA asks BSU to review allegations

The Associated Press

MUNCIE – The NCAA has asked Ball State officials to investigate new accusations of rules violations surrounding the men's basketball program, including an allegation that the women's volleyball coach was fired for reporting suspected infractions.

Thompson

The latest allegations were outlined in a letter from the NCAA dated two days before Ronny Thompson's resignation on July 13 after one season as coach. School officials said then Thompson and his staff broke NCAA rules by attending voluntary offseason workouts in both 2006 and 2007, then lied about their involvement this May.

The NCAA's letter seeks additional investigation by the school into other suspected violations involving Thompson and his staff. A media outlet reported Monday on the letter, which it obtained under an open-records request to the school.

The allegations described by the NCAA include that:

- Thompson may have provided financial assistance to someone involved with a basketball player at another university whom the coach was recruiting to transfer to Ball State.
- The possible recruiting violation was brought to the attention of associate athletics director Pat Quinn, who tried to investigate before being reprimanded by athletic director Tom Collins for pursuing the matter.
- Thompson provided Nike shoes to athletes as a reward for improved grades, which could be considered an extra benefit.

The letter also said the NCAA had been told that Ball State President Jo Ann Gora directed Collins to fire women's volleyball coach Randy Litchfield after 18 seasons on Thompson's request.

"It was reported that Thompson's request and Litchfield's termination were in response to NCAA violations by the men's basketball coaching staff that Litchfield's staff reported to the institution," the letter said.

Litchfield last month filed a notice with Ball State that he intended to file a lawsuit over his firing, which a school attorney denied was linked to the basketball staff investigation.

Collins said the school has hired a Kansas City law firm to handle the NCAA's request and that he hoped the allegations would not hinder the search for a new basketball coach.

"We want to get to the bottom of it," he said. "And as quickly as we can get answers, we'll get them back to the NCAA."

Total Nonstop Action Wrestling co-founder Jeff Jarrett said Jones' daughter had arrived from Atlanta on Sunday and the player was with her.

NFL contracts prohibit non-football activities that could cause injury. Jones' agent, Michael Huyghue, said last week he had talked with the Titans about Jones' plans with TNA. The agent previously said Jones would not be wrestling.

GM will not renew Olympic sponsorship

DETROIT - General Motors Corp. said Monday it has decided not to renew its U.S. Olympic Committee sponsorship when its contract ends

The major sticking point in negotiations between the Browns and agent Tom Condon are escalator clauses based on playing time for Quinn, who slid to No. 22 in April's draft after being projected as a top 10 selection.

Condon's proposal would allow Quinn to get a $5 million increase in the final two years of a potential five-year deal if he takes 55 percent of the snaps in any two of the first three years or 70 percent in any one of the first three.

Quinn is seeking $8 million in guaranteed money, roughly the same amount that cornerback Aaron Ross, the No. 20 pick, got from the New York Giants. Last week,

The Lord is my Shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters; He restoreth my soul; He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for His Name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for Thou art with me; Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me; Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; Thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; And I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File:

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.

Please Note:

Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.

cah, Ky., and in the February following by order of Gen. Smith, was put in charge of the general hospital at that point. In July, 1862, he returned to St. Louis and took charge of a ward in Jefferson Barracks. January 14, 1863, he was commissioned by Gov. Gamble as Assistant Surgeon to the Twenty-seventh Missouri Volunteer Infantry, and he served with them in the field until the close of the war, after which he removed to Clay City, Ill., and from thence to Wayne County, and has since been engaged in practice. He has farm property to the extent of 298 acres, and has of late years given some attention to farming pursuits. He is a member of the Wayne County Medical Society, and in political affairs is a Republican.

JORDAN C. PATTERSON, deceased, came to Wayne County about 1853, from Warrick County, Ind., whence he had previously moved from Warren County, Ohio. He was born in North Carolina January 5, 1814, a son of William Patterson, who was of Scotch descent. He was the first Postmaster at Zif, which latter name he gave to the office, and the township afterward took the same name. He was a plasterer by trade, but in later years, devoted his time to farming. He was an ordained preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church, and had filled many public offices, including that of Supervisor, both here and in Indiana. He married Cynthia Harrison, and the union gave nine children, of whom five are living—Ireneus, Nicholas J., Leroy S. and Orange S. (twins), and Jordan J. The latter married Rebecca A. Smith, a daughter of Jacob Smith, now deceased, and they have a family of three children, Cynthia M., Sarah A. and Malinda E. Mr. J. J. Patterson has a farm of eighty acres, and engages in general farming. He and wife are members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and politically, he is a Republican.

HICKORY HILL TOWNSHIP.

F. M. ATTEBERRY, farmer, P. O. Keenville, was born in Grayson County, Ky., and is a son of Stout and Annie L. (Crask) Atteberry. The father was born in South Carolina, the mother in Kentucky (for more facts concerning the parentage of our subject see the sketch of A. F. Atteberry); subject was the seventh of nine living children, and when he was quite young his parents moved to this county, and settled in Hickory Hill Township. He remained at home until about thirty, and then commenced farming, where he now resides. He now owns 200 acres in Sections 28 and 33, of Town 1 south, Range 5 east; has about 160 acres in cultivation. Mr. Atteberry was married October 14, 1866, to Miss Emma J. Dewees, a daughter of Stephen Dewees, of Grayson County, Ky; she was born July 30, 1832, and was the mother of one child, James F., who was born March 24, 1868, and died October 4, 1871. Mrs. Atteberry died October 27, 1868. Subject was married the second time, September 22, 1870, to Miss Elizabeth J. Mills, a daughter of Bradley and Rebecca (Ellis) Mills. The father was a native of New York, the mother of Hamilton County, Ill., and was of German descent. The present Mrs. Atteberry was born December 20, 1845, and is the mother of seven children, four of whom are now living—Albert S., born September 11, 1871; Rebecca F., born November 25, 1872; Melissa A., born May 18, 1875, and Arthur N., born December 10, 1882. Of the deceased ones, an infant son was born January 19, 1874, and died the same day. An infant son was born October 25, 1870, and died October 29, 1870, and an infant daughter was born in September, 1880, and died the same day. Mr. Atteberry has served as a member of the County Board of Supervisors, also as School Trustee. He is identified with the Republican party.

ASA F. ATTEBERRY, farmer and general merchant, P. O. Keenville, was born in Hickory Hill Township, this county, March 29, 1844, and is a son of Stout and Anna L. (Crask) Atteberry. The parents were both natives of Grayson County, Ky. The father came to this county in 1818, with his brother, Nathan F. Atteberry, and settled in Barnhill Township. He, however, only remained in the county a short time, and then returned to Kentucky. There he afterward married Miss Crask, who was of Virginia descent. Her father died in Kentucky and the mother in this county in 1855, aged eighty-nine years two months and eighteen days. In 1840, Mr. Atteberry again came to this county, and settled in Hickory Hill Township, in Section 28. There he resided until his death, December 10, 1881. The mother is still living at a good old age, on the old home farm. Our subject was the youngest of ten children, of whom the following are living: Rebecca, wife of John M. Reed; Sarah, wife of S. J. Branson; Eleanor, wife of John Keen, Sr.; Martha J., wife of John Keen, Jr.; Phebe A., wife of Samuel A. Keen; Francis M., Ansel K. and A. F., our subject. The latter's education was received in the subscription schools of this county. He remained at home until twenty-five, and then, settling near his father, commenced the life of a farmer. He now owns eighty-eight acres in Section 28, of Town 1 south, Range 5 east. He opened a store on his farm in August, 1882, and now supplies the neighborhood with general merchandise, carrying a stock of about $1,500. He is also serving as Postmaster. In this county, November 10, 1867, Mr. Atteberry was married to Melissa Mills, a daughter of Bradley and Rebecca (Ellis) Mills. The father was a native of Ohio, the mother of Illinois. Mrs. Atteberry was born October 25, 1849, and is the mother of six children, four of whom are now living—John F., Edgar K., Fannie L. and Nettie M. Subject has served as Township Clerk for several years, also School Director. Is a member of Hickory Hill Lodge, No. 759, A. F. & A. M. In politics, Mr. Atteberry is a strong Republican.

Mr. Williams took his stock of goods to Keen's Station, in Four Mile Township. Although the town was never laid out, the neighborhood in the vicinity of Mr. Keen's residence still bears the name of Keenville. In 1881, the post office was, however, moved a mile south of the old location, where Mr. A. F. Atteberry is now running a store. The mail is now brought by carrier twice a week from Xenia via Keenville, to Keen's Station. Besides the store of Mr. Atteberry, there is one in the southeast part of the township, near the conjunction of Horse Creek with Skillet Fork, near the Fairfield & Mt. Vernon road. Business has been carried on there since 1880 by a James Crask.

Schools.—In a very early day there were a few subscription schools held at some of the farmhouses in the township. But the first schoolhouse was built as early as 1845, in Section 29. It was of hewn logs, with puncheon floors, and was erected by the people of the neighborhood on land donated by Harvey Braddy. It was eighteen feet wide by twenty feet long, and was built by plans furnished by J. B. Bozarth. School was held in this building every season until 1879, when the building finally burned. Among the persons who taught there were Asa F. Atteberry, A. K. Atteberry and T. M. Atteberry. A short time before the building burned it was decided to divide the district, as the school was becoming large. In consequence, after the fire it was decided to erect two buildings. Accordingly, one building was erected in Section 28, on land donated by Stout Atteberry. It was a frame building, 24x36, and cost when completed about $650. At present the enrollment of the district is about sixty, with a general attendance of about forty. At the same time another building of about the same size and about the same cost was erected on land donated by Albert Gregory. The enrollment of that school is about the same as the other. Besides these two schools, there are two others—one near the eastern edge of the township, and another near the north line of the township, close to Brush Creek.

Lilly Methodist Episcopal Church.—It has been a matter of considerable difficulty to obtain sufficient data concerning the history of the churches of this township. That there was preaching on stated occasions in the township in an early day is an authenticated fact, but where and by whom is not so easy to ascertain. Some years ago, what is known as the Lilly charge of the Methodist Episcopal Church was organized. Its first members were Elsberry Gregory, Samuel Garrison, William McCoy and family, and a Mrs. Walters. At present the membership is about fifteen. The first place of meeting of this organization was in the old log schoolhouse in District No. 2, and afterward in the west frame schoolhouse of that district. In the summer of 1883, it was decided that the society erect a building of its own. This idea was put into effect, and subsequently a structure, 24x36, was built at a cost of about $600. In this place of worship services are now held on stated occasions.

Sunday School.—The first Sunday school in the township was organized in the summer of 1877. It was held under the auspices of the Methodist denomination in Schoolhouse No. 2. During the summer the attendance was on an average about fifty. At the beginning of the cold season, the school was disbanded, and has since then not been re-organized.

"The Little Brick Church On The Corner"

To
"The Friends Church", in remembrance of their most excellent teachings.- A soothing balm to the heart of him, striving to achieve for him-self, "The Final Reward".

It's a little brick church, on the corner of the two streets, tenth and Chase;
And each and every Sunday morn, the members gather in haste.

It was formerly called a "Quaker" church;
But a better name now, "The Friends",
And o'er its aged and time-worn roof
The tall and leafy maple bends.

It formerly belonged to another congregation,
Who we're sorry, gave it improper attention;
But now since, "The Friends" have secured it
Their excellent work we wish to mention.

And now a compliment we desire to pay
Rev. Thornburgh, its worthy pastor;
Who each and every sabbath day
Works earnestly for the "Master".

And may "God" bless each teacher.,
Each member, and each worker
Who, whether rain or sunshine prevails;
Will go out and bring in some shirker.

We might add a word for the young people's class;
In regards to their lessons and prayer,
And may "God" permit us to help them, everone
In their Christian work everwhere.

The young people's teachers we must not forget-
Mrs. Dodge and Mr, Cox,
Who each stick as earnestly to their class;
As does the "Captain" to his ship on the rocks.

And now for a final closing word
To the "Friends Church", and every one there;
And may "God", bless all who are interested,
Each day, in their every prayer.

THAT SCORE, giving Richmond a 21-14 edge, was set up, interestingly, when Anderson stopped an earlier Richmond drive by forcing and recovering a fumble at the Indian six as the third quarter ended.

But Anderson wasn't able to move the ball and Kevin Jones punted from his own end zone. Richmond got the ball at the Indian 30, and six plays later, Welsh connected with Rose.

Richmond sealed its victory one series later, capping a 10-play, 60-yard drive with a three-yard scoring run by Bart Denning with 3:52 to play.

ANDERSON MADE one more thrust, as quarterback Phil Sullivan completed four straight passes to move the Indians to the Richmond 37. Sullivan's fifth pass found a receiver, too, but he was wearing a Richmond uniform. Mike Rippberger intercepted at the Red Devil 32. The visitors then ran out the clock and ran off the field with their perfect record.

VIEWPOINT

Appraising the American car industry

By OSCAR ATTEBERRY

With the Indiana trading mission to Japan and Taiwan completed and Mayor Kevin Smith back in his office, I believe it's time to appraise what Japan and Taiwan and other foreign car companies' trading missions have done to the American car industry.

Twenty-five years ago, the Big Three had 75 percent of the car market. Today, it's 59 percent. What happened? Having lived in Anderson for 80 years and worked at Delco Remy for 33 of those years, I remember when Delco Remy had 16 plants in Anderson and employed 15,000 people. I can't tell you how many parts plants or assembly plants GM has closed or is going to close or level, but to date, 12 of the 16 plants in Anderson have been leveled and GM has left town. Unbelievable!

Thinking back, World War II was won with army ordnance built in Anderson GM plants. As labor strikes occurred, I often wondered what this "polarization of society" was going to gain. Now I know! I cannot imagine any Delco Remy official would be knocking at Toyota's door, looking for business. But we had the governor of Indiana, Mayor Kevin Smith of Anderson and others there, soliciting business. Looks like we won the war and lost the peace.

Toyota came to Indiana and built well-designed, safer, more reliable and better gas mileage vehicles than their U.S. counterparts. The story of Toyota is duplicated through 19 other foreign countries. They are employing 40,000 Hoosiers who are building Japanese cars in Indiana for the American market. Many factors, involving management and labor, account for GM's decline in car sales and plant closings. Many American car companies have had to reinvent themselves in recent years. Unions must do the same thing. If you want to read how the Big Three lost their grip on the American market, as foreign cars were imported, I suggest reading "The End of Detroit" by Michelene Mayhand.

Church defaced for third time

By SHAWN McGRATH
shawn.mcgrath@heraldbulletin.com

ANDERSON — For the third time in two months, a city church has been defaced with paint, and this time the damage is worse.

Pastor Brad Brizendine of Greenbriar Community Church, 1602 Woodbine Drive, said vandals sprayed two sides of the church either late Sunday or early Monday.

The church was previously vandalized twice in April. And like in each previous incident, "DX" and "Suck it" were spray-painted on the exterior.

"Isn't that awful?" Brizendine said. "They were a little more graphic and vulgar this time. The expense and damage have doubled this time."

The church had even installed security cameras, but except for a shadowy image, little was captured on tape.

"All we could see was a silhouette," he said.

Because two sides of the church were vandalized, Brizendine said it will cost twice as much to replace. Making it more difficult, he said, is that the vandals used black paint in the latest incident. Previous damage was caused by blue and yellow paint.

Brizendine said Surber's Windows and Doors replaced the vinyl siding twice before. But in something that has become an all-too-regular occurrence, he said the church will pay for the siding this time. He said it will likely cost $1,500 to $2,000 to fix.

"We're just going to have to pay for it," Brizendine said.

The independent, nondenominational church has been at its present location for about six years. It had been at what is now a credit union branch on Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard. The 25-year-old church had been Center of Faith Church, but the name was changed when the church moved. The church's congregation is under 100.

"Frankly, we're at our ends with this," Brizendine said of the vandalism. "These kids are going to be exposed at some time. I don't know anything else to say, but ouch!"

Opposes track

Dear Editor:

It's always been easy to say "Let George do it." But it seems the Anderson University and Church of God community "across the bridge" have the most to lose in making Athletic Park into an environmental and social disaster.

The times I attended the Free Fair racing, the grandstand was seldom 50 percent filled. Having been around town in excess of 50 years (conservately speaking), I was amazed how few people I knew. This is one measure of the interest in horse racing in our area.

If Athletic Park becomes a pari-mutuel track (heaven forbid), many racing organizations will come to town. But the groups seldom stay overnight and the horse handlers have living quarters in trailers. Effort has now shifted to tie the River Centre hotel and pari-mutuel track together (hoping to save the hotel?) I understand the city will spend $1.3 million tax money on streets, utilities, etc. The hotel will be privately owned and financed with money outside the United States. As I move about the city, I can't hear many active or outspoken supporters for either the race track or hotel. The administration seems to be the driving force!

The Anderson University, Church of God, ministerial groups, denominational pastors and citizens against should speak out against pari-mutuel racing. Maybe petitions should be circulated in churches, social clubs, service organizations, etc. Call city hall, 646-9600/646-9621. Will you help? I will!

It is well known that pari-mutuel tracks require more police and cause social problems.

As I read about the River Centre hotel, the current situation and location, I think of India's Taj Mahal. And Indiana (Anderson) will have it's Taj Mah Ha Ha!

Immediately after Wednesday's jolt, there was a 5 percent chance of a larger quake within three days, based on historical statistics, said seismologist Lucile Jones of the U.S. Geological Survey in Pasadena. But she said that by Thursday, the probability had dropped to 2 percent or 3 percent.

Injuries from the quake appeared to be minor. Cuts, bruises and a few broken bones were the chief complaints, officials said.

State Office of Emergency Services officials said it appeared that Upland, La Verne, Pomona, Ontario and Claremont were most affected, with Pomona and Claremont each declaring emergencies.

La Verne City Council members on Thursday afternoon decided to withdraw an emergency declaration issued the day before. They learned damage was likely to range only between $500,000 and $750,000, said Mayor Pro Tem Thomas R. Harvey.

We visit c̄ Jack & Jerri Atteberry tonight Uncle Gene (Ola) & Joanne brought them by the house. - I got confused on the day they were coming with Mothers care & all. But was so delighted to have them. They are delightful.
Jack told wonderful stories about his dad (Frank)

Frank was hearing empaired from birth. He was an excellant lip reader. When Frank was about 16 his teacher at AHS was so impressed with his skills & abilites he recommended him to a owner of a small print shop in Oswego (up by Ft Wayne). Frank lived in the back of the print shop. He was good at what he did. The owner got a new linotype machine. Frank was quick to learn. The noise from the type machine did not bother him. He worked the for a couple of years. An opening in the Noblesville paper entised him to move. The newspaper had recently acquired a linotype machine. Frank already knew how to operate this machine. At lunch he would walk across the street to the ______. There he met his future wife Gladys. She served him his lunch.

Wanda Faye Swinford McKay remembers going to Frank & Gladys house. She also remembers Frank stopping by Everett & Jennys house on Main Street on the way home from school each day. She always looked forward to his visits. She remembers that he dated a girl named Thelma Keesling. He brought her to Jenny & Everetts when he was in high school AHS. This was before he found the love of his life Gladys.

Oscar & Keith were in Charge of Eli's estate. Oscar had the Kindness of moral fortitude to insist that Eli's widow Thelma be provided for til her death. She was living with Eli in the Masonic home in Franklin, Pa

Eli had asked Frank & Gladys & Jack to move into Gma Attebury home to care for Emma in her declining years. As they moved in it was difficult for Gma Attebury to adjust to the changes taking place She had Canaris in the house. The singing would sometimes be too much for Frank's hearing aides He would have to removed them,
Jack had made model planes which he hung from the ceiling in his room.

Frank had the opportunity to purchase land in Noblesville for $3,000. He asked gpa Attebury for a loan of 500.00 to buy the acreage. Gpa Attebury had helped the other boys with purchases. Gpa Attebury said he would be glad to give him the money but he would only do it if he bought land in Anderson In. The land currently (2006) would sell for several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Juri mentioned several times what good Christian people her in laws, Frank & Gladys were. They were a joy to the people who knew them.

While Frank worked at Delco Remy he tryed to help other employees who suffered from problems. The group of people benefitting from his goodness and understanding help. After Frank died the group contacted Gladys & his son Jack to invite them to a special tribute to Frank. The wigwam was filled with people whose lives were touched by one man, Frank Attebury.

Grandma Attebury, Emma, was terribly sick - She had an infection on her leg. The doctor wanted to remove the leg. Gladys, Frank's wife, asked Gma & Gpa Attebury to come to their home in Noblesville. She said she would care for her, and she did. She changed the dsg everyday. Under the tender christian care of Gladys & Frank, Gma Attebury (Emma) flourish. The leg healed - The day She & Gpa Attebury returned home Gpa Attebury gave Gladys a new tea kettle for the care she had lovingly provided.

Frank suffered greatly before he died of cancer. He didn't want to ~~dy~~ die, not because of fear - He had great faith. But he had so many things he still wanted to do. He had grandchildren he wanted to enjoy. He got to see Jenger walk up to the bed. Jengee was one year old then.

Frank had a terrific memory - almost a photographic mind. He was in Masons. He became a teacher of the rites & rituals to the other Masons. He participated in many of the masonic rites for funerals, especially after he began working at Delco Remy in Anderson, In. He was in much demand due to his thorough knowledge of the rites & the sincerity ~~[illegible]~~ with which he performed it.

Frank's son F. Jack used to accompany him with a black face routine. Frank would write & perform his own material, Poems, Songs, skits & stories. He would find out about people in the audience prior to the performance then use this information during the program. It was always very successful.

Frank started the first Cub Scout group in Noblesville area. He went to surrounding cities to help other scout masters start their troops. It was interesting to note that Jack's wife Jeri had two brothers which Frank had in his troop at one time. Jack accompanied his Dad on these excursions to other towns & troops.

U.S. Tracksters Face Britain Today

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. track and field team, weakened by illness and injuries and disgruntled over the structure of its sport, faced Britain today in a bid to revive its drooping reputation.

The Americans have not dominated their European tour as some expert's predicted.

They lost against Europe at Stuttgart, and they did not have an easy time beating West Germany at Augsburg.

On the eve of the match against Britain, the Americans cabled President Nixon asking for a government investigation into the whole structure of track and field in the United States.

Youth Writing About Youth Improves The Daily Bulletin's Local Coverage

Ever since it first appeared on April 29, Youth Seen has been a popular feature in the Bulletin. Primary to that success has been the hardwork of our youth correspondents—all of them honor students with writing ability. This week, Youth Seen turns the spotlight on itself to show everyone who these yotuhs are who are writing about youth.

Mike Kinerk, who was editor of two All-American student magazines, is the Anderson High School correspondent. Next year, in addition to being the editor of The Little Chief, the award winning magazine, Mike will be editor-in-chef of the X-Ray, student newspaper. Planning to attend Indiana University next year, Mike is planning on a journalism career. At Anderson High, he is a member of the Honor Society, Thespains, Quill & Scroll, and active in campus politics. He's also interested in foreign languages and does well in German. Some of Mike's articles this past year for Youth Seen have included a look at the Community Action Council, a humorous look at a locker raid at Anderson High, and a story about local Church of God youths helping out in Mexico.

This year's correspondent from Madison Heights High School was Bob Dishmond. Bob, who will be majoring in zoology at Indiana University in September, was editor of the Jolly Roger, the school's newspaper which was rated All-American, the highest possible rating. Bob graduated in the top 10 of his class and was accepted at I.U. with "Honors at Entrance." While at Madison Heights, he was captain of the academic Bowl Team which went undefeated four times on a major television program. In addition, Bob was on the Executive Council, Student Council, and was program chairman for the Senior Dance. He was in the Thespians, Quill & Scroll, and the Debate team. He is a National Merit Commendation winner and was a national award winner from Quill & Scroll, the journalism society.

Jeff Atteberry will be next year's Madison Heights correspondent. An excellent photographer, Jeff will also be the Youth Seen photographer. He plans to attend Ball State University upon graduation, but is unsure of his major. At Madison Heights, he is president of the Thespians, national dramatics society, and is vice president of Quill & Scroll. He was also the official photographer for the Treasure Chest, the school yearbook. For his role of Raymond Pringle, a pesky 12-year-old in the junior play, "Kiss and Tell," he was awarded the school's Best Supporting Actor award. In addition to photography, Jeff likes to write short stories. His first contribution to the Bulletin was an essay about the Peru circus.

Imagine yourself as a locker being kicked, stomped, and stuffed. Highland High School correspondent Cindy Adams did and wrote one of Youth Seen's most sparkling features, titled "Diary of a Maligned Metal Locker." At Highland, Cindy is on both the newspaper and yearbook staffs and active in the Drama Club. She was in the club's successful performance of Arthur Miller's "The Crucible." This Summer, Cindy is working as an aide at the Turtle Creek Nusring Home.

Janet Marsh, who will be majoring in journalism at Ball State University this year, was the youth correspondent from Markleville High School. While at Markleville, she was editor of "The Village Voice," the award-winning student newspaper, and was also on Student Council. In addition to having been the junior class president, she was in the Honor Society, Foreign Diplomacy Club, Prom Committee, Future Homemakers of America, and Pep Club. Extremely active in 4-H activities, she was junior grand champion in the 4-H state fair entry classification of dresses, and was a four-county clothing award winner. She is a delegate to the State Fair and was District Junior Leader at a Ball State conference. Janet, who has written stories about "the generation gap" and Farmer's Day, will be contributing to the Youth Seen from Ball State beginning in September.

There's a new high school in the county, Pendleton Heights, but the correspondent will be the same. Mary Wynant, who was the Pendleton High correspondent last year becomes the Pendleton Heights correspondent for the coming year. Mary, who is in the Honor Society, is hoping to attend Indiana University to become a guidance counselor. While at Pendleton, she was president of the Student Council and was an active member of Quill & Scroll. She numbers the Sunshine Society, Latin Club, and school choir among her memberships. She was in the junior class play, and will be in the Pendletones, school choir ensemble, at the new high school.

Last year's correspondent from Frankton High School was Roberta Heaton, who will be majoring in secondary education this year. At Frankton, where she was an honors graduate, Roberta was business manager of the school yearbook, first runner-up of the Homecoming Queen contest, in the Model Legislature and the Tri-Hi-Y. As a sophomore, she won the school's German class award, and was later elected president of the Magliabecchis, the school's library science club. An excellent pianist, as well as clarinetist, Roberta has won three awards on the state level in music.

Dodgers' Don Drysdale Ann

Blames Shoulder Injury With Demise Of Ca

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Donald Scott Drysdale says he's in good physical shape — strong legs, good reflexes, timing just as good as ever. Only one thing is bothering him but it's forcing his retirement.

The 6-foot-6 Los Angeles Dodger right-hander said Monday he was quitting baseball because of a painful injury to his right shoulder, an injury diagnosed as a torn "rotary cup ...what gets your arm in position to throw and creates elasticity."

The injury put the 219-pounder out of action for the first time on April 22, when he went on the disabled list hoping rest would cure the pain.

He returned, pitched well but fitfully and was sidelined again early last month. Back July 27, he pitched three games, then said he didn't want to hurt the team with his inconsistency.

With a 5-4 record, he said "this team has a chance to go all the way. I don't want to jeopardize their chances."

"After a lot of talking and soul-searching, especially in the last four days," Drysdale announced his retirement at a news conference Monday.

In 14 seasons with the Dodgers, Big D won more games — 209 — than any other Dodger in history. He also holds club records for most innings pitched, 3,342; most strikeouts, 2,486; and most shutouts, 49.

Last season, one of his most successful, Drysdale hurled six straight shutouts and had a string of 58 2-3 consecutive scoreless innings to set major league records.

Using a sidewinding style, the huge ace of the Dodgers was known for pitching with all sorts of ailments — shingles, shin splints, broken ribs. He constantly used his arms and legs to stop line drives and was almost always bruised someplace.

Ball State Summer Workshop Preparing Future Journalists

(Editor's Note: Jeff Atteberry, one of the Bulletin correspondents, recently attended the photography workshop at Ball State's Journalism Institute. Next year, in addition to being a Bulletin correspondent-photographer, Jeff will also be chief photographer first-hand impressions of the 10-day for Madison Heights High School publications. The following story is his account of the one-week workshop.)

By JEFF ATTEBERRY
Bulletin Correspondent

It has been my good fortune to spend the two weeks at Ball State attending the Journalism classes held there. The classes began four years ago with a charter membership of approximately eighty students but since then it has expanded considerably and this year's workshop is supporting some 280 students under the direction of Dr. Louis Inglehart.

The students, mostly seniors, with juniors, sophomores, and even some junior high people, come mainly from the Midwest, but the Ball State Workshop has imported people from as far away as New York and Wisconsin.

The young journalists vary in their opinions about the workshop but they do agree that the friendly and relaxed atmosphere contributes greatly to the learning process here at B.S.U.

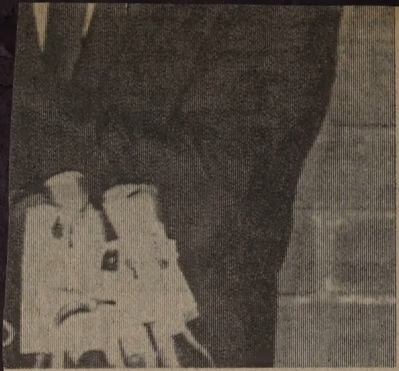
The workshop has a faculty that is more widely varied than the students. They come from places as distant as Iowa and North Carolina and each teacher is well worth the distance he or she travels from. One of the instructors, Mrs. Mabel Robrock, has written the book, "The Yearbook Team, a guide to young historians" which is used in teaching of the course. She feels that the yearbook is not only for entertainment and reminiscence, but also that it serves as a reference book for future years. She clearly pointed this out in her Monday morning lecture when she displayed certain pages from the Wapokaneta "Retrospect" of 1947—Neil Armstrong's graduating yearbook.

The workshop itself has changed only slightly in its four year history and it still retains its own journalistic uniqueness. It began as a two week activity (now it is only ten days) with a program of morning lectures and instruction, and an afternoon of more instruction and for the first week, advisory labs. The purpose of the advisory labs were to clear up any questions each individual staff might have about its own personal yearbook. The idea became so popular that it is now part of the ten-day workshop. At Ball State, the instructors want to allow as much room as possible for individual imagination which greatly helps the editor and staff to choose the theme and style of their particular yearbook. But in case of any problem no matter how small it may seem, the faculty is "on call" at all times to serve the students.

An average workshop day begins between 6:00 and 6:30 a.m. After the morning meal the workshoppers listen to a lecture from 8:00 to 9:00, then they break up into their individual groups (editors in Chief, layout editors, section editors, copy editors, Business and Advertising, and Photographers) for another lecture followed by a period of instruction or, in the case of the photographers, darkroom time, and then lunch. The afternoon is filled with more instruction in the form of the advisory labs while the photographers have time for shooting and darkroom work. After supper there is time to type notes, catch up on homework and, for a few minutes, relax.

But in spite of all the work involved, there is time for some of the young journalists to enjoy different things. Many facilities are open to our convenience including tennis courts, two swimming pools, Ping Pong tables, and even a bowling alley. The popular sport among the girls is sun bathing.

The Ball State Journalism Workshop is run during July and the first of August and gives instruction to both high school newspaper and yearbook staffers. It is an education in Journalism, of course, but more than that it is an education in human relations. Truly, it is impossible to leave this ten-day period without acquiring at least one new friend.



1965 said his decision to retire had come "after a lot of talking and soul searching this whole season, especially the last four days."

his trademarks. But in the last few years, Drysdale assumed a calm attitude and rather than using a blazing fastball, he settled for control.

In 1962, the iron man of the Dodger staff led the National League in innings pitched, 314; in games won, 25 against nine defeats; and in strikeouts, 232.

Winter Low Pro In Pro-Am Meet

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Terry Winter of Lafayette was the low scoring pro Monday in a pro-am golf tournament at Greentree Country Club that had U.S. Open champ Orville Moody and former Open winner Lee Trevino in the field.

Winter earned $1,000 for his five-under-par 66. Trevino shot a 70, Moody a 71.

Dilbeck sold the league earlier this summer to the Baptist Foundation, along with a lake in Kentucky, but remained as league president.

The pressing problem now facing the Global officials is finding a place to play what they've billed as several exhibition games.

The Evansville school board has refused to rent Bosse High School field, a 6,000-seat facility which was the home of minor league baseball teams in the past. The board said bleachers have already been erected in the outfield for football.

Dilbeck said he and former major leaguers Johnny Mize and Enos Slaughter, who are with the New York club in management roles, have looked at potential playing sites in nearby Boonville, Rockport and Mount Vernon.

At Miami, Tokyo general manager Joji Yoshinaga said the Venezuelans treated them "worse than dogs." He said with thousands of dollars owed in hotel bills, the Japanese suddenly found they couldn't leave Caracas after the league faltered there following 12 games.

"I'm very upset about the way the Venezuelans treated us," he said. "They treated us very poorly—they treated these boys worse than dogs."

Jackie Sue Elwin came home from school (Kdg or 1st) and she kept talking about her new friend & how much she liked her, & how much fun she was. Pauline, Jackie's mother finally asked what was her friend's name. It was Ginger, Ginger Attebury. This was Jerri & Jacks daughter.

John Carter & I (Karen McKay Carter) were at White Fish Point Light House MI for our 20th Wedding Anniversary. We met a lovely girl there - Maria - In the course of general conversation Maria mentioned she was from Indy. I noted that was not far from our home in Anderson, In. Maria said she spent every Thanksgiving with people from Anderson, the Atteburys. I was astounded. It must be our relation - I wrote down several of the Attebury in our family - starting with my grandmother Jennie Attebury Swinford. Jerrie called me several weeks later. Indeed it was our Atteburys. Maria & Ginger ~~are~~ were classmates. Jack & Jerri were the Thanksgiving Atteburys. It was so nice to talk with ~~them~~ her. We promised to get together.

90-year-old continues slippery tradition

ALEXANDRIA — Ninety-year-old Phyllis Johns has congestive heart failure and has undergone five back surgeries throughout her life. When it comes to her family's yearly trip to Shakamak State Park, however, she insists on enjoying the slide in the aquatic center with as little assistance as possible.

"I've always done it, so it's no big deal," Johns said.

Johns' daughter Sharon Johns, 52, said a large group of family members visit Shakamak around the same time in July each year and, eventually, staff members began anticipating Phyllis' trip down the slide.

Each year, Sharon said, it seems to get harder for her mother as she is more easily fatigued, and when lifeguards asked if Phyllis would once again be riding down the slide, Sharon said she wasn't sure if Phyllis would make it up the 42 steps.

"With her heart and her legs, it does her in, but she doesn't think it does until she gets up the next day," Sharon said.

Before the group left the park this year, however, Phyllis carried out her tradition — twice.

The first time, Sharon said her mother walked each step on her own and didn't admit she needed to take breaks between steps until the last few landings. On the way up, family members surrounded Phyllis on each side, and another group waited in the water at the bottom to catch her.

"What was really neat, I think, was everybody at the pool stopped to watch her walk up until she came down, and then once she did they all clapped," Sharon said.

When asked why she enjoys going down the slide each year, Phyllis simply shrugged and explained that she has enjoyed going down slides ever since she was first introduced to them at her elementary school's playground.

Sharon suggested that Phyllis also enjoys a break from the heat.

"When we go down there it's hot, and there's water (on the slide)," Sharon said. "She sits up, which makes you go slow, and it's just a nice little cool ride, and then you get down and plunge into the pool."

Immediately after Phyllis slid down for the first time, she was followed by her 31-year-old grandson Jeffery Johns and his then-5-week-old daughter Ellie Johns.

"I was more nervous about her (Ellie)," Jeffery said. "She (Phyllis) is a pro, she's been going down the slide for years."

As the father of the newest member of the Johns family, Jeffery said he is looking forward to continuing the tradition of visiting Shakamak State Park and sharing the memories his family has made at the park with his daughter.

"Lord willing," Phyllis said she too intends to continue visiting the park and going down the slide on her own next year and as many years after that as she is able.

Mike Gonsalves said on Thursday that the news of his brother's rescue was starting to feel more real. "It'll feel me real when I'm able to see my brother," Gonsalves, of Manchester, Conn., told CBS' "Early Show" in a phone interview before going to Texas.

"He looks good," the brother added. "They all look, you know, good for being what they went through — I think they look pretty good."

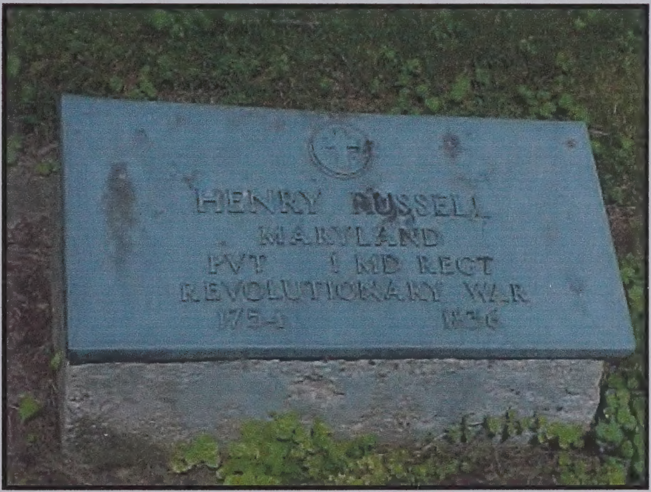
Captain Litchfield and Henry Russell

Otterbein/Chesterfield/Makepeace Cemetery

Union Township

Captain Litchfield is listed in the DAR Index of Revolutionary Patriots. His grave is listed as unmarked in the Otterbein Cemetery area by the American Legion's Cemetery Record of Deceased Veterans. The grave's location may actually be in the adjacent Potters' Field. An American flag is usually placed near Henry Russell's marker to acknowledge Capt. Litchfield's contribution. Very little information can found concerning his life in Madison County. He was an early settler in Union Township and may have come to Chesterfield alone.



Henry Russell, Revolutionary War soldier, was at Valley Forge in 1777. He was born in 1754 and served as a private in Maryland's 1st Regiment. He died in 1836 in Chesterfield at eighty-two years. Henry is listed in the DAR Index of Revolutionary Patriots. Mr. Russell was one of the early Union Township pioneers. Henry's son, also named Henry, was a class leader in the Otterbein Church. This veteran's daughter Nancy was the wife of Brazleton Noland. Henry Russell's grave retains the memorial plaque placed there by the Daughters of the American Revolution. The Kikthawenund Chapter of the DAR had historian Edward J. Ronsheim, Sr., speak at the dedication ceremonies: "Only by preserving history are we fit to make it. These people braved the dangers of the frontier to establish that which we enjoy. Surely they earned from us a right to believe that the stones which mark their lives and deaths will be held as a sacred trust and historical tie between the past, today and the future."
